

Correspondance:

DAVID: Hi Mary, it's me. I hope you're ok. Can I ask you a few questions, please?

Correspondance:

MARY: David! I haven't spoken to you in a while. Sure, ask away.

Correspondance:

DAVID: Well, you went to Canada a few years ago, didn't you?

Correspondance:

MARY: Yes I did. Are you thinking of going to Canada too?

Correspondance:

DAVID: Well, I am actually! What's the pay like over there?

Correspondance:

MARY: It's actually really really good. I was earning about €20 an hour for my job.

Correspondance:

DAVID: That's great! Is there lots to do in Canada?

Correspondance:

MARY: There is loads to do. It's also really easy to travel to the USA too.

Correspondance:

DAVID: That's interesting. I would love to visit the USA too.

Correspondance:

MARY: The problem is travelling around Canada can be a bit expensive

Correspondance:

DAVID: Speaking of expensive, I just saw that the exchange rate is bad at the moment.

Correspondance:

MARY: It's always bad between Euros and Dollars. Oh, stay away from the tap water in Canada too!

Correspondance:

DAVID: The tap water? It's that bad?

Correspondance:

MARY: It's awful! There's also a big homelessness and alcoholism problem in Canada.

Correspondance:

DAVID: That's terrible. Is the homelessness worse than in France?

Correspondance:

MARY: Much worse. There are loads of diverse landscapes in Canada, forests, cities and stuff.

Correspondance:

DAVID: Oh, I love exploring forests!

Correspondance:

MARY: Yes, but be careful! It's easy to get lost on hikes. A few hundred go missing every month!

Correspondance:

DAVID: Oh, that's scary! I'll bring a GPS.

Correspondance:

MARY: You should. There are a few dangerous places in the cities too.

Correspondance:

DAVID: Oh dear! How are the locals generally?

Correspondance:

MARY: Normally they are very friendly, and very interested in foreigners like you!

Correspondance:

DAVID: Oh, I'm not that interesting! How's the healthcare?

Correspondance:

MARY: The healthcare is amazing! Some of the best in the world. I've got to go now, call you later?

Correspondance:

DAVID: Ok, no problem. Thank you so much for that information!
