

A Family Dilemma

MUM

You witnessed a murder, and you are worried that the perpetrator might come and find you as they saw you watching. You hate violence of any kind. You think the family need to take a long holiday abroad.

DAD

You work for a petroleum company. You have been given a promotion at work, you now have to work extra hours, and even some time on the weekend. You suggest hiring a nanny to help the wife and children.

DAUGHTER

You have fallen in love with a boy at school called Darren and you want to move in with him. You also want your dad to quit his job at the petroleum company, as it is bad for the environment.

SON

You also got into a fight with a boy called Darren and want to protect yourself. You want to start a weekend activity with your dad and suggest boxing. You hate the town you live in and want to move.

A Family Dilemma

MUM

You witnessed a murder, and you are worried that the perpetrator might come and find you as they saw you watching. You hate violence of any kind. You think the family need to take a long holiday abroad.

DAD

You work for a petroleum company. You have been given a promotion at work, you now have to work extra hours, and even some time on the weekend. You suggest hiring a nanny to help the wife and children.

DAUGHTER

You have fallen in love with a boy at school called Darren and you want to move in with him. You also want your dad to quit his job at the petroleum company, as it is bad for the environment.

SON

You also got into a fight with a boy called Darren and want to protect yourself. You want to start a weekend activity with your dad and suggest boxing. You hate the town you live in and want to move.